Missouri and Illinois Bounty Lands

THE subscriber has now for sale a number of the most valuable tracts, in both of those rich and improving bodies of lands, and can supply applicants with any number they may wish, and in any part of either territory. Every person who visits the Western Country, particularly those who intend settling there, should take with them a few quarter sections of those lands; every man who has a young and growing family, and can spare a few hundred dollars, should not miss the present opportunity of getting some of those lands; as it will insure to his children a greater certainty than any other investment he can possibly make for their benefit.—From the immense emigration to both Illinois and Missouri, particularly to the military lands, it is certain there must be a great rise in the price very soon, and those who miss the present opportunity, will never again have a chance to do so well. The patents will be sold very low, for cash, good notes or bonds at short dates, or bank stock in the Central Bank of Georgetown and Washington, and the Farmers' and Mechanics' Bank of Georgetown. As I am a large dealer in Military Bounty Lands, I can supply any number that may be required.

Please to apply at my Exchange Banking House, Bridge-street, Georgetown.

GAZETTE
AND Alexandria Daily Advertiser.

PUBLISHED BY
SAMUEL H. DAVIS,
ROYAL-STREET.

Daily Gazettes, 10 dolls...Country, 5 dolls

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 1, 1819.

The present editor of the Gazette thinks it unnecessary to detail, at length, the manner in which the paper is to be continued.—He never knew a publication to prove better for an imposing introduction. Politics in the district have ceased to excite a struggle, and their acerbity has been succeeded by a general tranquillity. It would be impolitic to revive them. The Gazette will therefore continue to be, what it has long been, a faithful narrator of intelligence. To add to its means of usefulness, the paper is enlarged; and the editor designs to procure, in a few weeks, a new set of types, when it will assume an appearance not unworthy the support which may be extended to it.

The latest Boon's Lick papers afford the following information of the Scientific and Military expeditions up the Missouri.

The United States' steam-boat Western Engineer arrived at Franklin on the 14th July, and left there on the 19th. The boat left St. Charles on the 25th June, and arrived at Franklin in 16 days—running time 97 hours 15 minutes—average running time, 5 hours per day.

The troops, &c. under the command of Colonel Chambers, arrived at Fort Osage on the 20th ult. on their way to Council Bluffs.

The steam-boat Expedition, capt. Craig, arrived at Franklin on the 22d July, accompanied by several keel boats, with about 300 troops including officers, &c. The keel boats proceeded up almost immediately.—The expedition left Franklin on the 30th July.

The steam-boat Johnson, captain Colfax, arrived at Franklin on the 3d ult. and left it on the 5th.

General Jessup and Colonel Atkinson arrived at Franklin, by land, on the 19th July. On the 24th, Gen. Jessup proceeded to Fort Osage. Colonel Atkinson remained at Franklin until the arrival of the other steam and keel boats.

THE COMET.

We have had a narrow escape! The earth was, on the 26th of June, in the direction of the tail of the comet. This wandering star, our globe, and the sun, were then on the same line, and M. Olbers, a celebrated astronomer of Aremen, observed the passage of the comet over the sun's disk.—The nucleus of the comet entered by the southern extremity, at 25 minutes after five o'clock, real time, and came out by the northern extremity at 25 minutes after nine o'clock. During this passage, the comet was seven millions of German miles from the sun, and fourteen millions from our planet.

TREATY OF LIMITS—IMPORTANT TO MAINE.

It appears probable that the fort which our government had begun to erect on Lake Champlain, falls within the British lines.—This is to be regretted; but, if it fairly belongs to them by the treaty, let them have it. If we lose Rouse's Point, it is said we shall receive a compensation in the district of Maine. Our north eastern boundary, it is said, will be many miles further north than has heretofore been supposed. It will extend so far as completely to cut off the communication between the provinces, and will embrace within our limits a considerable French settlement, which has formerly been under the jurisdiction of Canada. [Portland pap.

In an action of debt brought by the United States against Dyer Lathrop, for the penalty imposed by an act of congress laying duties on licenses to retailers of wines and spirituous liquors, the supreme court of New-York has lately decided, that the laws of congress conferring the power or imposing the duty on the state courts to entertain jurisdiction in such cases, are unconstitutional, and that the state courts are not bound to enforce the penal laws of the Union, nor to consider themselves "inferior courts of the United States." Similar decisions have been made in Virginia and other states; and, if they be correct, the creation of additional federal courts will be indispensable, in order to the enforcement, in the several states, of the various and multiplying laws of the U. S. [Franklin Gaz.

We have no doubt (says the Norfolk Beacon) but that the friends of Commodore PERRY will be gratified by the publication of the following General Order, issued by Commodore Sinclair, the commanding naval officer on this station, on the arrival of the melancholy intelligence of the gallant Perry's death, which has been shewn us by a friend. The steam boat Richmond, was also immediately dispatched to the seat of government, in anticipation of the mail, bearing the information of the sad event.

GENERAL ORDER ON THE NORFOLK STATION.

The arrival of the U. S. ship John Adams, with the intelligence of Commodore Perry's death, can have excited but one feeling in the bosom of every officer, and under such feelings they must wish to pay, and see paid, every mark of respect which is due to the memory of such a man as Perry—noble, generous and brave, he was justly the idol of his country, while those who knew him intimately could more properly appreciate his real worth. The commanding officer afloat on this station, therefore, directs that all commissioned and warrant officers, coming within his command, wear crape on their left arm, for thirty days, unless hereafter otherwise ordered by the navy department.

The commanders of all ships and vessels of war on this station, are directed to wear their flags half mast, until the evening of the 26th instant, and that between the hoisting and lowering their colors each day, thirteen guns shall be fired at slow intervals, and that dusing the same time the music shall be used with muffled drums.

Given under my hand, this 25th day of September, 1819.

(Signed) A. SINCLAIR.

The U. S. Corvette John Adams, Lieut. Commandant Claxton, came up from Hampton Roads on Saturday afternoon, and anchored about six o'clock, between forts Norfolk and Nelson. Yesterday morning, from nine o'clock, minute guns were fired from that ship and the U. S. vessels at the navy yard, and their flags displayed at half mast, as a tribute of respect to the memory of the late OLIVER H. PERRY.

Extract of a letter dated Barbadoes, June 24.

"The non-intercourse with America produces no inconvenience in our colonies in general; and this island at least, is perfectly independent of the United States. The intercourse with British America is extensive and beneficial to us: that with Bermuda is growing fast, and I have never known the island in greater prosperity. Within two years the value of land has advanced 100 per cent. We have not heard of any depredations by the Insurgent vessels since the Fortitude was plundered off Madeira. There is nothing to be apprehended from Brion's cruizers. A strange proceeding took place in Tobago a few months ago; a Spanish ship from the Havana was taken by the Insurgents, and the cargo sold at Tobago; The sugars were purchased by British merchants, and the chief part sent to Gibraltar. If this vessel was insured in England, it is to be hoped the underwriters were apprised of the circumstance."

New-York, Sept. 27.

MELANCHOLY SHIPWRECK.

The schooner Only Daughter, Capt. Ellis, which arrived yesterday from Richmond, on Friday morning fell in with the wreck of the schooner Rapid, Hawes, from Boston, bound to Charleston, which was upset on the 22d while lying to under a three reefed foresail, with 12 persons on board, five of whom, the wife and four children of Mr. J. H. Mable, of Halifax, perished in the cabin. Mr. Mable, and the rest of the persons were saved, and taken on board the Only Daughter, after being on the wreck 40 hours.

THE LATE GALE.

Capt. Congar states, that a few days since, he experienced the heaviest gale of wind that ever he has known. It commenced Sunday noon, the 19th, being then in lat. 37, 30, and long. 73, 30—Its first direction was from the N. E. but soon hauled to North; from this quarter it blew with the most inconceivable violence 48 hours, and then hauled back to N. E. round to E. and S. E. on which point it moderated the 4th day.—A more tremendous sea perhaps was scarcely ever witnessed on the ocean, which ran from the different points of North, E. N. E. and S. E. at the same time. The Phocion received some damage to her boats, waistboards &c.

Niagara, (U. C.) September 16.

At the Circuit Court, held on the 16th ult. the Rev. Mr. Eastman was indicted for marrying John Clow to the wife of Benjamin Swayze, knowing her to be such.

The Rev. Mr. Pope was tried for performing the ceremony of marriage without being authorized by law. Verdict, guilty of the fact, but not with a felonious intention.

The Rev. Mr. Cook was tried for performing the ceremony of marriage, without being duly authorized as the law directs. Verdict, guilty, but recommended to mercy: Sentence, to depart the Province in eight days.

The two cases above mentioned are made felony in England by a certain British statute, adopted in this Province; although it was strongly argued by the learned counsel that that statute could not extend to this Province. He was over-ruled by the court. Sentence, transportation for 14 years, and to leave the Province in 8 days. [Afterwards pardoned by the governor.]

Norfolk, Sept. 27.

Arrived, brig Gossypium, Cooper, from Crooked Island, bound to Boston, put in here in distress, having sprung a leak in the late gale, with coffee and salt, to the master. On Friday last, on the edge of soundings, fell in with the wreck of a schooner, which proved to be the John Allen, Etheridge, from Plymouth, N. C. bound to New-York, and took off the passengers and crew, five of the former and five of the latter. The J. A. during the late equinoxial gale, was knocked on her beam ends, carried or cut away both masts, and lost her rudder, which rendered her so completely unmanageable that Capt. E. concluded it necessary for the preservation of the lives of those on board, to abandon her. The following are the names of the passengers in the J. A. who together with the crew of that vessel, have arrived here in the Gossypium: Captain Brown, James G. Cuthbert, of Newbern, James Turner, of New York, William B. Knight, and a colored boy named Francis.

Capt. Applewhaite, who has come passenger in the brig Heroine, Keele, from St. Thomas's, states that the French schnr. La Florestine, Fabre, sailed from St. Pierre's, (Mart.) about the 24th August, laden with sugars, for this port.—That on Friday night last, about 50 miles to the eastward of Cape Henry, the Heroine spoke the schnr. Fanny and Mary, Block, from New-York bound to Richmond, who had been dismasted on the Tuesday night previous in the Gulph Stream, then two days out—at the time of her being dismasted she lost one of her seamen overboard.—The F. and M. had a number of passengers on board, and Capt. Keele enquired of Captain Block if he should afford him any assistance? answered NO, not any.

Nacogdoches, Aug. 14.

An express arrived from Col. Robinson, who commands the detachment reconnoitering on the Brassos, informing that the party were all well; that two negro men (runaways from the U. States) and one white man had gone to Labadie. The Indian tribes in that quarter are all friendly, and warm for our cause. It is expected that the party will intercept some contraband traders from St. Antonio.

By the arrival of five deserters from St. Antonio, we learn that there are not more than two hundred troops in that place, and about eighty in Labadie. These deserters say that we go in considerable force, the royalists will not fight, but, together with the inhabitants, throw themselves on our protection. Their situation at this time is truly deplorable—a person cannot venture one mile from the city without a strong guard, on account of the hostile onduct of the Indians, who are continually hovering around them. We hope soon to protect them from the Indians as well as the royalists. We hear of large quantities of wild cattle in the vicinity of Labadie, which will support our army on its march.

We understand that strong settlements are forming at Picond Point, on Red River.—The lands there are of the best quality, and enough of provisions have been made there this year to supply four times the number of inhabitants that now reside there.

It is expected that the forces will move from this place in a very short time for St. Antonio and Labadie. From intelligence received this day from the latter place, we are informed that there are not more than forty men, at most, posted there. We firmly believe that by the first of October, there will not be a royal Spaniard on this side of the Rio Grande.

FOR THE GAZETTE.

Mr. Editor—If ever there was a nation whose gratitude should be awakened towards a particular body of men, for benefits received from their lives and actions—that nation is the United States; and that body of men, the fathers of our Revolution—their devotedness to the cause they espoused—their love of liberty—independence of mind—and unshaken fortitude entitle them to the lasting remembrance of posterity.

Peruse the history of every nation, ancient and modern, and we can no where find so brilliant a galaxy of patriots, as arose during our revolutionary struggle;—they were men of no mushroom growth, forced on the stage of trouble by lawless ambition, intrigue, or self aggrandizement; but were brought forward by universal sympathy and attachment to justice and liberty.

As young people but slightly versed in the policy of European courts, they put forth their strength under no common difficulties—the prejudices of some, the fears of others, and character of the nation with whom they differed, presented obstructions which required skill and judgment to overcome.—No sooner, however, was the tocsin sounded, than talents stept forth, and the moral energies of America were developed. Men who had long been held in obscurity by ministerial partiality, and who had too much honor and integrity to be found goading their countrymen with unjust taxes and extortions to support the extravagance of an arbitrary cabinet, now rallied to the post of danger; they felt convinced the time had arrived, when America must either be separated from Britain, and assume her own responsibility, or forever remain colonies, subject to the jealousy, caprice, and power of a king and ministers. The faithful historian has related how far this was met by the people.—We feel the result, and the debt we owe such men is incalculable.

The virtues of those great and good men may be safely offered as models of imitation, and as I delight to contemplate and study their characters as they were unfolded half a century ago, I propose, Mr. Editor, to give you, at times, a sketch of some eminent and distinguished patriots. In so doing I shall lay no claims to originality, but be actuated by sentiments which assure me they cannot be presented to the mind too often, neither can their characters be valued too highly.

One of the most distinguished and prominent personages in the history of our Revolution, was SAMUEL ADAMS, and who, as early as the year 1742, displayed his ardent love of liberty in his conversation and writings; his fine talents were directed entirely in a political way, and his principles founded upon the broad basis of a free government; he disliked the union of civil and military authority, and was jealous of the least deviation from justice and equity; possessing the advantages of a college education, with strong argumentative powers, a ready wit, and advocating opinions in unison with the people's, he was honored by his fellow citizens with their confidence and love

Mr. Adams was one of the warm and determined patriots, who, in the pursuit of an object, or the defence of a right, knowing it to be just, would stand firm as Atlas,

"When storms and tempests thunder'd at his brow."

What Benjamin Franklin was in the assembly of Pennsylvania, in some respects, Samuel Adams, in 1765, was in the legislature of Massachusetts; at this period, when the governor and assembly were at continual variance, he was the leading man—the very life of that body; he possessed a mind which would act, though the thunders of kingly vengeance rolled around his head; what he knew to be truth he would stand to, though it might threaten his worldly prosperity; his energy, however, was tempered with prudence, he well knew the human character, and therefore was not ignorant of the ingenuity requisite to secure the passions, as well as judgment; when once his plans were formed, he divulged——enforced——carried them.

He was often and repeatedly called to posts of trust and importance, he was a member of the first congress, and devoted his talents and eloquence in forwarding the great object of their meeting. Well may it be said, he was fitted to the times; feeling a love of country burn paramount in his bosom above all other things, he asserted her privileges with firmness, and pronounced her rights invaded. The proscription act against Adams and Hancock will stand a monument to distant ages of their devotion to the cause of America and detestation of tyranny.

When the Constitution was submitted to the several states for their approval, Mr. Adams, then a member and president of the senate of Massachusetts, objected to the powers of the general government, as in reality taking from the states their sovereignty, and that a standing army to overawe would soon follow. Here his opinions coincided with Virginia's great orator—Henry, and although their opposition at that time was unavailing, the Constitution was afterwards altered as they suggested.

Mr. Adams possessed a strong and independent mind, an integrity of character that defied calumny, and a love of liberty, warm and constant; though he frequently differed with his friends on great political questions, the purity of his motives were never doubted. He was never affluent, but he possessed that patience and cheerfulness of mind which is more precious than gold; he for several years filled the distinguished office of governor of Massachusetts, and died in 1803, leaving behind him a character which will live in the annals of our country, as one of the pillars which upheld our liberties, in a dark and momentous period of our history.

Mr. Adams is represented as having been a man of dignified deportment, and with a countenance at once noble and serene.—Amid the clashings of party animosities, he was esteemed and respected by all; he was agreeable in conversation, and a mild christian, and although no marble statue has been erected to his memory, the throb of gratitude in the hearts of his countrymen, when they think on his great services, is the surest evidence of their regard. BERMUDA, ALIAS SOMERS' ISLAND.

By his Honor William Smith, Commander in Chief in and over these Islands, &c.

A PROCLAMATION.

Whereas I have received officially a Copy of an Act passed this present Session of the Imperial Parliament, further extending the Provisions of the Acts of the 52d and 57th years of his present Majesty, for allowing British Plantation Sugar and Coffee, and other Articles, imported into Bermuda in British ships, to be exported to America in Foreign Vessels; and to permit Articles, the produce of America, to be imported into Bermuda in foreign ships: which act is contained in the following words:

"Whereas an act was passed in the fifty-second year of his present Majesty's reign, entitled, an act to allow British Plantation Sugar and Coffee, imported into Bermuda in British ships to be exported to the Territories of the United States of America in foreign ships or vessels and to permit articles, the productions of the said United States to be imported into the said Island in foreign ships or vessels: and whereas an act was passed in the fifty-third year of his present majesty's reign, entitled an act for further allowing the importation and exportation of certain articles of the Island of Bermuda: and whereas an act was passed in the fifty-seventh year of his present majesty's reign, intitled an act to extend the powers of two acts, for allowing British Plantation Sugar and Coffee, and other articles imported into Bermuda in British ships, to be exported to America in foreign vessels: and to permit articles the produce of America, to be imported into the said Island in foreign ships, to certain other articles: and whereas it is expedient that the said acts should be extended, so far as regards the articles to be allowed to be imported and exported:

"Be it therefore enacted by the Kings most Ex. M. by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same—That in addition to the articles enumerated in the said acts, it shall be lawful to import from the United States into the ports mentioned in the said acts above recited, in vessels of the description therein stated, and under the like authority, restrictions, rules, regulations, penalties, and forfeitures provided in the said recited acts, the article of Rosin being the produce or manufacture of the said States; and in addition to the articles permitted to be exported by the said above recited acts, to export from the said Island of Bermuda to the said United States, in such vessels and under such regulations as aforesaid, all articles, the produce or manufacture of the said Island, and all articles whatever which shall have been legally imported into the same in any British ship or vessel."

I do therefore hereby issue this my PROCLAMATION, publishing and making known the above act; of which as well the officers of his Majesty's customs for these Islands, as all others interested or concerned therein, being duly apprised thereof, will govern themselves accordingly.

Given under my hand and the great seal of these Islands, this 9th day of September, 1819, and in the fifty-ninth year of his majesty's reign.

WILLIAM SMITH,
Commander in Chief.

By his Honor's Command,
ROBERT KENNEDY.

FROM A LATE PARIS PAPER.

An horrible crime, which presents in its details the most astonishing courage and singular presence of mind, has been lately committed in the vicinity of a little village of the Brie. It altogether forms a drama, the episomes of which possess great interest. If the trial to which it will give rise shall not obtain the melancholy celebrity of the case of Fualdes, it will at least display a character of woman, whose frightful situation was more critical than that of the mysterious and imprudent heroine of Rhodes.

A pedlar and his wife, a short time since, presented themselves at night fall at the door of a little farm-house, a short distance from the high road. They requested of the farmer permission to sleep there, whose wife was still confined to her bed, having lately lain-in. A small room was assigned to them, where they passed the night quietly, the next day being Sunday, the farmer and his servants went to mass to a neighboring village. The pedlar also expressed a wish to go there, and there remained in the house only the wife of the farmer, the pedlar's wife, who complained that she was not well, and a child of six years of age.

Scarcely had the people gone out, when the pedlar's wife, armed with a knife, presented herself at the bed of the lying-in woman, and demanded her money, threatening to kill her in case of refusal. The latter, sick and weak, did not oppose the slightest resistance, and delivered up the keys of her drawers, at the same time desiring the little boy to conduct the woman who had to look for something in them. She rose softly from her bed, followed the pedlar's wife without being heard, and having beckoned the child out of the room, locked the robber in the chamber. She then desired the child to run to the village, to apprize his father, and desire him to bring assistance.

The child did not lose an instant; but by an inconceivably fatality, met on the road the pedlar, who had left the church no doubt to join his wife. Having asked the child where he was going, the latter answered ingenously he was going to seek his father, as an attempt was made to rob them. The pedlar took the child by the hand, and said it was unnecessary, and that he would go himself and protect his mother.

They returned to the farm where the farmer's wife was shut up; he knocked at the door, but this woman not recognizing the voice of her husband, obstigately refused to open it; the pedlar made vain efforts to induce her to do it, and being unable to attain his end, threatened to cut her child's throat, if she did not instantly decide upon it. Ferocious at not being able to prevail upon her, he executed his horrible threat, and killed the child, almost under the eyes of its mother, who heard, without being able to give succour, the cries and last sighs of her son.

After having committed this useless crime, he endeavored to penetrate into the house to save his wife; time pressed, they might each moment return from mass, and he could not succeed in getting admission but by mounting on the roof and descending down the chimney. During all this time, he exhausted his rage in menaces and imprecations against the farmer's wife, who, almost fainting, saw nothing to deliver her from certain death. This wretch had already got into the chimney, and was about to enter into the chamber, when the farmer's wife collecting all her force, drew by sudden inspiration, the pallasse of her bed to the edge of the hearth, and there set it on fire. The smoke in a few minutes enveloped the assassin, who not being able to reascend, very soon fell into the fire, half suffocated. The courageous farmer's wife lost not her presence of mind, but struck him several blows with the poker, which put him beyond the chance of recovering his senses. Finally, exhausted with fatigues and mental agony, she fell senseless on the carpet of her chamber, and remained in this situation till the moment when the farmer and his servants returned from church to be witnesses of this horrible occurrence. The dead body of the child at the gate of the farm house, was the first spectacle that struck the eyes of this unhappy father. They forced open the gates, and after having recalled to life the farmer's wife, they seized the two culprits, who were delivered up to justice.—It is believed that the pedlar will survive his wounds, and be able to receive the punishment due to his crimes. They will be immediately brought before the court of assize of the department, where this affair is in preparation for trial, which excites the greatest interest through the whole country.

The official report of the Board of Health of Boston, published September 25, shows that not a death occurred in town, in the preceding week, of malignant fever, and only two of typhus. The town is now considered as restored to health.

Twenty-one new cases of Fever were reported in Baltimore for the 24 hours ending on Monday morning at 9 o'clock.

Thirteen new cases of Fever were reported for the 24 hours ending on Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock.

Seventeen new cases of Fever were reported for the 24 hours ending on Wednesday morning,

Died,

In the Island of Bermuda, on the second of September last, of the prevailing epidemic, Thomas Seabrook, Esq. aged about 26 years, a native of London, and for some time a resident of this place. In the death of this amiable young man, society has lost a valuable member, and his relatives have to deplore the untimely fate of one whose conduct had particularly endeared him to them.

Correct Information.

THE stock advertised for sale by the Mechanics' Bank as standing in our name, is not our property. Our stock note thereon has been continued, under heavy and disproportioned curtailments, ever since March 1818, for the use of the real owner, a respectable mechanic of this place, because he could not obtain leave, upon a transfer, to substitute his stock note for our's. We have no interest in said stock beyond the sum that will retire the said stock note, and we do not think it proper to advance more money than we have done for curtailments.

Valuable Land for Sale.

PURSUANT to a decree of the Superior Court of Chancery for the district of Fredericksburg, in Virginia, the undersigned commissioners will proceed to sell, at public auction, upon a credit of one, two, and three years, at Middleburg, in the county of Loudon, on Thursday the 18th day of November next, lying in the neighborhood of Middleburg. The whole land is of that quality termed plaister land, and susceptible of high improvement by the use of it. The whole will be laid out into small tracts, of from two to three hundred acres each, and sold in separate tracts to suit purchasers. The whole is well watered, and no country is more healthy. Captain Pickett, who lives near the land, and who is employed to make a survey of it; and Mr. Sommers, who is the agent for the collection of the rents, will shew the land to those who may be inclined to purchase. Bond and security, and a deed of trust upon each tract, will be required of the purchaser.

4000 Acres of Land,

Hill and Dale, April 20.

Gunston for Sale.

THIS elegant estate is situated on the Potomac, 16 miles below Alexandria—it is bounded on three sides by the Potomac and Pohick creek, and contains nearly 3,000 acres of land, level and fertile, to which are attached six shad and herring fisheries, two of which command the river channel. This land will be laid off in four tracts, so as to have one or more fisheries to each; these tracts will be again divided if requisite. This estate is level and beautifully situated, very fertile, and remarkably healthy. Plaister acts with an effect equal to that of any part of Virginia or Pennsylvania.—I have used 500 bushels in twelve months, and such is its beneficial operation, that were I to keep this land I should considerably increase the quantity. A manufacturing mill is distant about two miles, on a stream navigable for vessels carrying 1200 bushels of wheat, where the Baltimore and Dist. of Columbia prices are given for grain: being bounded on 3 sides by water, a small extent only of fence is necessary to inclose the whole: it would be admirably adapted to grazing. The improvements are a large and very substantial brick mansion, 40 by 70 feet, with every necessary outhouse, three commodious barns, houses for Negroes, and fish houses at each of the fisheries. 120,000 bricks and 1000 bushels of lime are just burnt on the premises. There is a considerable extent of live fence, both useful and ornamental, two orchards of well selected apples and peach, besides an abundance of other choice fruit. More than 150 acres are in clover, 200 in corn, and land is in preparation for sowing 250 bushels of small grain. Any quantity of hay can be cut from the low grounds, some of which (and all might,) have been reclaimed at a trifling expense. The river and creeks, abound with wild fowl, particularly canvass backs, the woods with deer and a variety of other game. Mules, cattle, highly improved sheep, farming utensels and household furniture can be had. The terms of sale will be accommodating. Property in any of the cities, negroes, bank stock, western lands, or lands near the Ridge, will be taken in payment.—Letters must be addressed to me at Pohick Church, Fairfax county, Virginia.

S. Drew, Merchant Tailor,

Removed from Fairfax-street to the corner of King and Columbus streets, and his prices falling

RESPECTFULLY acquaints his customers and the citizens in general that he has removed as above, where he will study to give satisfaction. He has by him a small but well assorted stock of goods, which will be found on inspection to be of the best quality, the whole of which he wishes to sell low for cash, and as further inducements to purchasers he offers to cut out any goods, bought of him to any size or pattern gratis.

S. Drew aware, of the advantage a ready money business has over one where long credit is given, thinks that a distinction ought to be made in the prices in each case: and as the price of provisions are low at present, he is glad to be able to announce to those customers who will feel disposed to pay him ready money for his work, that he will reduce the price of making to them according to the present journeymen's wages; and to prevent any supposed imposition on the one hand or disatisfaction on the other he is willing to be goverued by the printed regulations of prices by which the journeymen are paid in Alexandria.

N. B. Bread, flour, beef, groceries, liquors or any thing valuable taken in exchange for clothes.

S Drew has this day opened a tavern in the same house, where he has laid in a a supply of Philadelphia and the district porter and ale, together with liquors of the best quality, and he feels confident that he shall be able to give satisfaction to all who will please to favor him with a call.—He is fitting up his house for the accommodation of boarders, travellers, &c. and from its central situation, good beds and stabling, together with other requisites, he presumes that it will be found a convenient establishment. may 25

Was Committed,

TO the jail for the county of Alexandria on the 3d inst. as a runaway, a negro man called BEN HENDERSON, supposed to be the property of George Thornton, of King George county. The said negro is about 50 years of age; 5 feet 6 inches high; bald head; and a shoemaker by trade. The owner is desired to come prove property, pay charges, and take him away, otherwise he will be disposed of as the law directs.

ANDW. ROUNSAVELL,

september 8 Jailor.

100 Dollars Reward.

RAN away on the 28th of April, from the farm of the subscriber, in Dogue Neck, Fairfax Co. Virginia, negro HARRY, aged about twenty three years, about five feet ten inches high, very black, well built, has a considerable impediment in his speech, when spoken to evinces much confusion, and replies almost unintelligibly: had on when he left home, a much worn suit of domestic cloth. I have every reason to believe that he is endeavoring to pass for a free man, and as such went off in some of the bay craft during the late fishing season. All masters of vessels are forewarned from harboring or taking into their employ said negro, under penalty of having the law rigidly enforced against them. I will give twenty dollars, if taken in the county of Fairfax, or district of Columbia; if beyond that distance, the above reward, provided he is secured in jail so that I get him again. WILLIAM MASON.

Charles County, Md. June 1.

The editors of the National Intelligencer and Baltimore Federal Gazette will insert the above until forbid, and send their accounts to Port Tobacco for payment.

June 11 tf

100 Dollars Reward.

I WILL give the above reward to any person who will return to my possession, negro LAWRENCE, who assumes the sirname of FENWICK. This fellow left my farm, on the Wicomico river, in Charles county, Md. on the 6th July, in consequence of his own outrageous conduct towards my overseer. He is a negro of a fine erect figure, good features, a smooth black skin, rather above the middle stature, of a youthful appearance for one of thirty years of age, and of great plausibility and natural smartness. His ears grow remarkably close to his head, and on the inside of his lower lip he has a white mark or spot. I purchased him 4 years ago of the estate of Mrs. P. H. Courts, of this county. I am led (by circumstances which have come to my knowledge since he absconded,) to believe that he will endeavor to make his way to King George county, Va.; should he not take this route, he will probably be met with in the District of Columbia, or in the upper counties of this state, on his way to Pennsylvania. I apprehend he will change his name, and if committed to jail, refuse to state to whom he belongs, as the misconduct which preceded his departure, & his absconding, have all appeared since to have been premeditated. He took all his clothes with him, of which he had a large number; among them—a new bear-skin over-coat, a long close-bodied blue coat, a pair of striped jean pantaloons, one or more white waistcoats, besides many articles of coarse cloathing; these, however, he will probably exchange, or sell them for cash to defray his travelling expenses.

I will give the above reward to any person who will bring him home to me, or FIFTY DOLLARS if confined in jail, and notice given me, so that I recover him.—Should he be taken out of the state, I will also pay all reasonable costs and charges which may attend the bringing him home.

PROSPECTUS

Of a new periodical work to be published in the city of Washington, entitled the Washington Theological REPERTORY.

EDITORS. { Rev. Wm Hawley, Washington, Rev. Wm. H. Wilmer, Alexandria, Rev. Oliver Norris, Alexandria, Rev. Reuel Keith, Georgetown.

Assisted by several other literary gentlemen of the Protestant Episcopal Church.

IF any apology were necessary for this undertaking, it may be found in the fact, that there is no publication on a similar plan, in all that section of our country lying south of New York, and but one in the whole of the United States. It has been matter of equal surprize and regret, that the Episcopal Church should be so far behind other Christian denominations, in similar efforts to disseminate the principles of religion and piety. At a period like the present, when the Lord is preparing his way on earth, by the most remarkable efforts of human agency, and the most wonderful operations of his providence and grace—when we perceive in every part of Christendom, a praise-worthy emulation to share in the glorious work of filling the earth with the knowledge of the only true God, and his Son Jesus Christ; it would seem criminal for any to withhold their exertions, however feeble, in the great enterprize of human happiness and salvation. The editors have, therefore, felt it their duty to make this humble effort to supply this acknowledged deficiency on the part of the church in this section of the country, and to bear their share in the common exertions of Christians to promote the Redeemer's Kingdom. And having obtained the services of a gentleman, in whose talents and principles they have confidence, whose time will be wholly devoted to the superintendence of the work, they feel encouraged to solicit the patronage of the public.

The publecation will be conducted under the immediate inspection and control of the above named editors, who will form a committee to review every article intended for publication. The principles upon which it will be conducted are those of the bible, as illustrated in the articles, Liturgy and Homilies of the Protestant Episcopal Church. As members of this church the editors will feel bound to support the Apostolical character of her institutions, the pious tendency of her rites and ceremonies, and the evangelical nature of her doctrines But in these, and all other discussions, they hope never to loose sight of that great law of charity which teaches us to "preserve the unity of the spirit in the bond of peace."

Acting upon those catholic principles, so long and so successively pursued by "The Christian Observer," their chief object will be to inculcate sound theological knowledge, and to delineate and recommend pure and vital religion. They trust therefore, that while the members of every Christian denomination may find something edifying and instructive, none will discover any just cause for offence in the pages of this work. General subjects of biblical criticism, practical illustrations of scriptural truth, the biography of illustrious persons, evidences of the truth of revelation, essays on the history and polity of the church, reviews of interesting publications, religious, literary and philosophical intelligence—in short, whatever is connected with the promotion of religion, humanity and literature, will find a place in this repository.

The testimony of experience supersedes the necessity of dwelling on the advantages of a periodical publication on the plan proposed. Its obvious tendency will be to render the various departments of religious knowledge more easy and accessible, and give a more ready currency and wider circulation, to those great truths which involve the present welfare and future destiny of man.

It will tend powerfully to stimulate the exertions of the editors, and console them under the difficulties attendant on the prosecution of this work, amidst many other avocations, should it prove the means under the blessing of God, of enriching any of its readers with the saving knowledge of Christ, and prepare them for a participation in the felicity and glory of his heavenly kingdom. With this hope they commit it into his hands, and confidently solicit their brethren of the clergy and laity to assist them in carrying into effect the objects of the undertaking.
